

A statement by a person contributing to an evaluation report or a literature review of any financial or personal relationship that could influence the results or the interpretation of the results of this report or review.