

The price paid by an institution, agency or person for the purchase of a drug, device, product or health service.