

A model in which the combined effect of several independent factors is the sum of the isolated effects of each factor.

Note: For example, if a factor X increases a risk by  $a$  in the absence of Y, and if a second factor Y increases the risk by  $b$  in the absence of X, the combined effect of the two factors is  $a + b$ .

(Related concept: multiplicative model)