

A graphical depiction of the systematic clinical care of a patient that proposes, for a treatment period related to a single diagnosis, an optimal co-ordination of the delivery of care provided by physicians and other health professionals, from when the diagnosis is confirmed to when the patient is admitted, and at the stage of rehabilitation and home care.