

The cost of lost hours of work and decreased productivity due to disease, disability or death.

Note: The value of the time is generally calculated on the basis of the average earnings.