

A curve illustrating the probability that a given option is efficient on the basis of the value assigned to an additional quality-adjusted life year (QALY).