A graphical representation of the possible options and outcomes, used in decision analysis.