

All the fixed or variable costs directly related to the delivery of health care and health services.

Note: For example, physicians' compensation, hospital fees and drugs.

Note: Drummond and his collaborators do not support the use of this concept.