A field of inquiry that assesses the operation, processes, outcomes and utility of organizational structures (programme, agency, policy, etc.).