

The care and services flowing from the application of the principles of evidence-based medicine to all professions associated with health care, including management and the purchasing of goods and services.