

A written document for patients and the general public that clearly presents the key information about a treatment or procedure, including a clear explanation of any technical terms.