

A discipline for economic evaluation of pharmaceutical products and services through determination, measurement and comparison of their costs and outcomes.

Alternate spelling: pharmaco-economics