

A substance, procedure or treatment used to simulate a therapeutic intervention.

Note 1: In research, a placebo is given to a control group, to isolate the true effect of the treatment being studied.

Note 2: Related terms include "placebo effect" and "nocebo effect".