

A list of the documents cited in a work, and usually found at the end of the text.

Note: The entry for each document includes the name(s) of the author(s), the title, the source and the year of publication, and follows a specific presentation style (the Vancouver Style, for example).