In hypothesis testing, a conclusion drawn when the null hypothesis is rejected, i.e. when the p-value is below the pre-determined alpha level.

(Related concept: p-value)